

Dear Editor,

The Des Moines Water Works lawsuit claims that Iowa farmers have not done enough to keep Raccoon River clean. However, preservation of land is the livelihood of these farmers. The Iowa Soy Bean Association is dedicated to working with experts in the field to better their practices and keep Iowa's water clean. Time and money put towards this goal ensures the clean future of Iowa's water. Policy and regulation aside, water quality is in all our hands. We are stronger together.

Sincerely,

Arlinda Fasliu

Communications Director
